Raiffeisen Index Premium Derivative Fund

(ISIN: HU0000703707)

Fund Manager: Raiffeisen Befektetési Alapkezelő Zrt., a member of the Raiffeisen Bank Group

Objectives and investment policy

The objective of the Raiffeisen Index Premium Fund is to achieve maximum capital growth while restricting any potential loss in the fund's value, by selecting from a wide range of asset classes.

The fund may invest in derivative transactions, the units of other investment funds, shares and interest-bearing assets, and may even hold short positions designed to profit. The fund is following a strategy starting from 03 May 2017 that the maximum possible loss of the fund would not exceed 20% in a year with a good chance.

The fund is a reinvesting fund, meaning that it reinvests the income it generates.

Derivative instruments may be used for hedging purposes and, in addition, as a part of the investment strategy.

In accordance with the intentions of the Fund Manager, the leveraged position undertaken by the fund through derivative instruments has a moderate impact on the fund's performance (and on the fluctuation of the trading price).

The units of the fund may be purchased and redeemed on any trading day. All working days are trading days except for those that are designated by the distributor as trading holidays – in accordance with the statutory provisions – or on which trading is suspended due to extraordinary circumstances.

This form of investment is best suited to investors with a middling risk appetite, who have an average risk-bearing capacity.

Recommendation: this fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 2 calendar years.

Risk and reward profile

- The indicator that serves as the basis for the above mentioned risk rating is based on the risk measure applicable in the case of absolute return funds. On this basis, the fund was classified under risk category 4.
- The classification of the fund under category 4 based on the risk/reward profile is attributable to the fund manager's endeavour that the fund's investments are selected in a way that the maximum possible loss of the fund would not exceed 20% in a year under the value-at-risk approach.
- The past data used for the calculations are not necessarily reliable indicators of the fund's future risk profile.
- The designated risk/reward profile is not guaranteed to remain unchanged, and the categorisation of the fund may shift over time.
- Not even the lowest category can guarantee a risk free investment.

The following are the risks that are not taken into account when assigning the risk category, but that are of significance in terms of the fund:

Credit risk: Some of the fund's assets are invested in bonds and/or money market instruments (directly or in the form of credit derivatives). There is a risk that the issuers may become insolvent (or that their credit quality deteriorates), and that these bonds and/or money market instruments (or credit derivatives) lose their value in part or in full.

Liquidity risk: There is a risk that a given position cannot be sold in time at an adequate price. This risk may lead to the suspension of redemptions of the investment fund units.

Counterparty risk: If the counterparties participating in the transactions concluded by the Fund Manager on behalf of the Fund do not perform their obligations in full, this may negatively affect the Fund's net asset value and the price of the investment fund units.

Operational risk: There is a risk of loss caused by a disturbance in internal procedures/systems or by external events (for example, natural disasters). Safekeeping carries a risk of loss in respect of the fund's assets that may be caused by the insolvency of the custodian or sub-custodian or the violation or abuse of its obligation to act prudently.

Risk arising from the use of derivative transactions: The fund may use derivative transactions not only for hedging purposes but also as an active investment tool, as a result of which the risk of fluctuations in the fund's unit price increases.

Model risk: In extreme market conditions changes in the fund's unit price may be higher than projected by the used risk management model.
